

Little Congress Bicycle Museums Cumberland Gap, TN

CUMBERLAND GAP, Tennessee - Looking for a different way to celebrate the New Year? Tired of that same old routine? Every year, we watch on television how people far to the North bring in the New Year by celebrating with a Polar Bear Dip. These brave souls dare to take the dip while hundreds bundle up in fur blankets to watch. Well, we say, why watch it on television when you can be a part of it right here in your own backyard?

The Little Congress Bicycle Museums, Cumberland Gap, TN, Has been celebrating the New Year in just that way for eleven years now by dipping in Gap Creek. This famous creek, flowing straight out of Gap Cave since long before Thomas Walker walked these hallowed grounds, is the source of Cumberland Gap Spring Water, and provides the surrounding households with necessary libation all year long.

Each year on January 1, precisely at Noon, onlookers and jumpers gather at Gap Creek in front of the Little Congress Bicycle Museum in downtown Cumberland Gap, TN, to add a sense of splash to their lives by joining this embracing ritual, setting their new year's resolutions and taking the plunge with hopes of new beginnings. Bring a towel and join the crowd.

If you haven't seen this, you won't want to miss it. If you have seen it, we look forward to seeing you again this year. It's becoming a reunion crown that grows every year. Don't miss out, hundreds could be in attendance!
